MANUFACTURING HUBS IN INDIA
25th - 26th November 2021 | Hotel Le Meridien, New Delhi

Day – 1: Thursday, 25th November 2021

1130 – 1230 Hrs. Session 1: Exploring the Potential of PCPIRs and Paving Way for Inclusive Growth in Region, Sector, and Economy

Petroleum, Chemicals and Petrochemical Investment Regions (PCPIRs) have an important role to play in realizing India's vision of becoming a $ 5 trillion economy by 2025. This session aims to unleash the true potential of the PCPIRs and chalk out the roadmap for establishing them as global manufacturing hubs on the lines of Rotterdam-Rhine-Ruhr Area (ARRRA), Jurong Island and Bay Area Houston. Globally these three petrochemical hubs are recognized benchmarks for development of new clusters around the world. Their successful driver's operation model are looked upon to understand the key drivers for investment.

The session will entail State Governments presenting the vision, strengths, and opportunities of PCPIRs, and the industry sharing their views on making PCPIRs to be recognized as world class manufacturing hubs in India. The ways for promoting competitive environment conducive to setting up new business units and development of global scale industrial corridors in PCPIRs sector of the country in a cluster approach will be discussed. The success of PCPIRs depends upon proactive roles by the PCPIR management in proper conceptualization and phasing of the PCPIR development and industry participation by way of investments in infrastructure and industry. The government shall act as a catalyst providing support in terms of fast-track clearances, favorable duty regime and an overall business friendly environment. To give a fillip to PCPIRs, the government may also consider time bound exemptions, subsidies, and incentives.

Moderation by Mr. Kamal Nanavaty, President, CPMA***

1230 – 1345 Hrs. Session 2: Strategic Global Partnerships: Crucial for driving Investments and enhancing Trade

Investment attractiveness of a country depends on a wide variety of factors, like the state of the economy (reflected by GDP growth rate), global partnerships, market dynamics (demand-supply), trade scenario (import export), policy environment, quality of infrastructure, skill and cost of manpower etc.

A rapidly changing business environment in chemicals petrochemicals industry reflects its need for continued global competitiveness. Companies that once produced only primary or commodity chemicals now produce a spectrum of chemical products, including consumer goods. Industry seems to move toward prioritization of core businesses and consolidation on a greater scale, often through big-ticket mergers and acquisitions. For players in India, scale helps to fortify their competitive advantage. Countries that are open to trade and investment are more prosperous and have competitive edge. All economic sectors require a functional global trade system. one over which the flow of chemicals and materials continues to deliver the essential ingredients and the protective properties that support societal resilience. Strategic global partnerships act as a catalyst in enhancing trade.

This session aims to unleash the strategic global partnerships which are crucial for driving investments and trade. Government initiatives will catalyze the growth of the industry in the next five years, helping to transform India into a global manufacturing hub for chemicals and petrochemicals.

Day – 1: Thursday, 25th November 2021

1500 – 1615 hrs. Session 3: Evolving opportunities in Chemical & Petrochemical Industry in Post COVID Era

The chemical & petrochemical industry serves as a feeder for many other industries, which plays an important role in our economic revival. To meet the challenges posed by the pandemic, businesses around the world had to react in agile and decisive ways. As we move into the next phase, now is the time for businesses to seek out and seize the opportunities emerging in the recovery. In the recovery, purchasing activity has resumed, bringing some relief to the consumer sector, and new unemployment claims have fallen as people begin to return to work.

Government of India
Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilizers
Department of Chemicals and Petrochemicals

The chemical & petrochemical industry has navigated crises before through diligent fixed-cost restructuring, level-headed portfolio management, and applying a 'lean lens' to its processes. Now there is an opportunity to show how people and planet are the real drivers for business. By capitalizing on cross-sector innovation and collaboration, the chemical industry can not only build back better, but also secure its role in the post-COVID era with its improved products, services and technologies. This session aims at evolving opportunities in chemical and petrochemical industry in post COVID era.

Session 4: The importance of ESG and Circular Economy in shaping the future of chemical and petrochemical industry

The ESG (Environmental, social and corporate governance) reflects a company's commitment to include environmentally conscious business practices in tandem with robust social responsibility and corporate governance. The chemical petrochemical industry has enormous opportunities to aid the circular economy. The circular economy creates incentives for market participants to contribute to a more sustainable approach to natural resources.

Through collaboration with policymakers and other stakeholders, the sector's leaders can not only offer solutions that meet new consumer demand for sustainable products but can also play a proactive role in bringing innovation into value chains to 'build back better' and help the sector move towards a more renewable, circular, and resilient future. This session aims at the importance of ESG and Circular Economy in shaping the future of chemical and petrochemical industry.

Day – 2: Friday, 26th November 2021

1215 – 1330 Hrs. Session 6: Supply Chain Disruptions in the Chemicals & Petrochemicals Industry and Way Forward

The impact of COVID has created a disruption in the supply chain in the chemicals & Petrochemicals industry. The demand was irregular across value chains. Significant capacity additions and slowing demand growth have caused the industry value pool to decline.

The chemical and petrochemical Industry leaders and financial investors alike will need to update their perspectives and management agendas to focus on recovery scenarios, regionalized supply chains, and capital productivity.

There is need for building supply-chain-resilience capabilities. During the pandemic, companies that had solid monitoring and supplier mapping capabilities down to the sub-tier site and part level had a complete picture of how the evolving crisis would affect their supply chains. This helped companies take action before the disruption hit. Some were able to avert any negative impact. The session will witness policy makers and industry captains discussing the supply chain disruptions in the chemicals & petrochemicals industry and way forward.

Day – 2: Friday, 26th November 2021

1430 – 1545 Hrs. Session 7: Emerging Trends in Chemicals & Petrochemicals industry in retaining the industrial momentum and growth

- Sustainable Green Chemistry
- Role of Digitalization

To achieve a sustainability in chemical & petrochemical sector, an interdisciplinary approach is needed throughout the value chain from primary chemical production to waste management. There is no single or simple solutions in tackling environmental challenges. The policies need to maximize co-benefits and ensure sustained impact. Sustainable chemical

Government of India
Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilizers
Department of Chemicals and Petrochemicals

manufacturing strategy has increasingly focused on designing safer chemicals, use of renewable feedstocks, and design for energy efficiency.

Adding value by balancing the economic, social and environmental impact of the pandemic is becoming an overarching management principle in the chemical industry value chain. Chemical companies are incorporating sustainability and green-chemistry initiatives by constantly improving products, technology and processes, and working closely with customers and suppliers across their value chains.

While advanced digital technologies were already changing the business landscape, their applicability assumes even greater importance in today's greater uncertainty. Innovations in Digitalization area are being taken up by industry, with 80% of 360 chemical companies reporting an increase in investment in digital technologies for plants, in particular on plant management and product quality.

Technological transformation will also have been given a boost by the experience of virtualization and new ways of working by staff during the pandemic lockdown. It is likely to accelerate the move to a more mobile workforce, able to work virtually and at distance. Companies will want to consider what worked well during the crisis and look at the opportunities for future workforce productivity and flexibility. Digital adoption has taken a quantum leap at both the organizational and industry levels. This session aims to focus how innovations and R&D enchantments driving Sustainable Growth in the Industry and the role of digitalization in retaining the industrial momentum and growth.
